

KIDS ON THE BLOCK

Who are the Kids on the Block?

The Kids on the Block are a life-size troupe of puppets that portray individuals with "special needs". Each puppet has their own identity and personality. They also have a script written and created just for them!

Who helps bring the Kids to life?

People like you!

Volunteers come in many shapes and sizes, just as the puppets do!

Volunteers go through training in preparation for puppet presentations. Puppeteers help build the personality behind the puppet!

What can the Puppets do for you?

They can help build empathy and understanding between those who are non-disabled and those who are disabled.

The puppet troupe goes into the community to perform at schools, clubs and organizations. The puppets help promote awareness through the sharing of real-life experiences of people with disabilities.
