Regarding: Medicaid Rate Increase for Community Behavioral Health Partners

Dear State Officials,

As you are no doubt aware, two weeks ago the Health Care Authority (HCA) and the actuarial firm Milliman held a meeting with behavioral health providers, Behavioral Health Administrative Services Organizations (BH-ASOs) and the Apple Health Medicaid Managed Care Organizations (MCOs) to present the most recent rate setting information that will be submitted to the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) and used to set the 2023 rates going into effect January 1st 2023. The presentation proposed a rate cut of up to nearly 8% from the rates currently in place today. The explanation given was that they had to use data from the previous year (2021), which shows a decrease in utilization, or the amount of services provided, largely due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Additionally, they stated the behavioral health system does not have enough workforce to meet the ever-increasing demand for behavioral health services, so they expect fewer services will be provided in 2023, thus a lower reimbursement rate to providers per member per month.

This news was very disturbing, and groups, like ours, voiced strong concerns during the meetings. Many providers here in the Greater Columbia Region as well as across the state have already committed to increasing staff salaries given the legislature's investment and commitment to increasing rates by 7%. This proposed reduction in rates for 2023 puts these providers in the very unfortunate position of having to walk back those commitments. Frankly, some providers will simply not be able to continue to operate if they must absorb an 8% rate cut, thus exacerbating the workforce crisis and continuing to drive down utilization.

Decreasing rates, a declining workforce, and increased cost per client puts the entire community behavioral health system in a "deaths spiral".

In our capacity as elected county officials as well as board members serving the Greater Columbia BH-ASO, we ask that you do everything in your power to prevent this rate reduction from happening. Moreover, we request that you reevaluate the current rate setting process and consider using a model that does not so heavily focus on utilization as the primary rate setting indicator.

If we are going to successfully build a community behavioral health system of the future, we cannot continue to underpin its funding by looking to the past.

Director Schumacher,

We are writing to ask for your consideration for funding improvements to eleven publicly owned facilities that serve as venues for Minor League and West Coast League baseball stadiums. The eleven communities with publicly owned Minor League and West Coast League Baseball stadiums are requesting the creation of a one-time "Minor League Baseball Publicly Owned Stadium Improvement Fund". Our stadiums are community gathering places that provide our residents with fun, affordable, family entertainment.

While the minor league baseball teams are the anchor tenant, each of these stadiums provide venue space for community events year-round. They can accommodate youth sporting events, graduations, concerts, wedding ceremonies, non-profit fundraisers, and business meeting space. Additionally, our stadiums have been on the front line for public health during the Covid-19 pandemic. Stadiums we're used for public testing and vaccination sites the last two years. They we're some of the first to offer vaccinated seating sections and offer free vaccinations during games.

State funding of publicly owned minor league baseball stadiums is a frequent occurrence throughout the country. For example, in 2006, the Washington Legislature provided $18 million for improvements at the state's minor league stadiums. More recently, Oregon provided funding for a new minor league baseball stadium in Eugene.

The funding would be distributed based on the stadium improvement needs in each community. The State funds would be combined with local and team funds to complete the needed improvements. This funding will help to address infrastructure improvements help keep our stadiums functional for many years to come so we can continue to service the community by generating economic prosperity and improved quality of life. The stadiums and their events help make

Washington a great place to live, work, and visit. They are community gathering places and venues for affordable, family entertainment.

Thank you in advance for your consideration.

Sincerely,
